

Table of Contents

Preface

Acknowledgements

Introduction

A Miocene Pompei

Landscapes Then and Now

Florissant Under Siege

Chapter 1. Unearthing Wonders

Breaking new scientific ground

Commerce and curiosities

Conservation: The First Stirrings

Chapter 2. Geologic Book Burning or Preservation?

Florissant: A Personal Story of Science and Action

Changes on the Land

Motions in the House

The Conservationists Rally

The Park Service Gets Busy

Frustration in the House

Senatorial Stirrings

Chapter 3. The Developers Want Florissant

Fossils Need Lawyers

Defenders of Florissant, Inc.

The Hearing

Intermezzo

For want of an Abstract

Chapter 4. Fossils Go To Court

Making the Case

Rendering a Judgement

The Defenders' Appeal

Chapter 5. Victory—in Court and in Congress

The Wright Stuff

A Legal Rollercoaster

Acts of Congress

Chapter 6. The Park Service Steps In

Buying the Land

Ranch Trails and Fossil Dogs

The Promise of Paleontology

Recollections of a Monument Paleontologist

A Natural Attraction for Scientists

Interpreting the Fossils for the Public

Protecting the Fossils

The Long wait for a Visitor Center

The Value of Good Friends

The Past is the Key to the Future

Chapter 7. Beyond Florissant

A Common Law for Natural Resources

Private Ownership Versus Public Property

The Media—Information and Persuasion

Science and Scientists

Conservationists

Appendix. Epoch Sealed in Stone:

A Guide to Florissant's Ancient Life and Fossils

Ancient Secrets Hidden in Plain Sight

Fossilization in the Shadow of a Volcano

The Fossil Organisms of Florissant

Stories from an Extinct Ecosystem

Dramatis Personae

Suggested Reading

Index